RIDICULE THEIR ONLY DEFENSE

It was to be expected that the Mandan Pioneer in discussing the Bismarck to Fort Yates and Bismarck to Pierre highway over the cut off road via a special bridge over the Heart river should substitute ridicule for logic. No valid argument can be urged against this cut-off. It means a square deal for Bismarck and as square a deal for Mandan.

When a traveler on this road reaches the junction of the St. Anthony and the Bismarck cut-off road, he can go into Mandan on a good road if he desires or proceed to Bismarck without traveling five or six miles over.

When the situation is understood every Bismarck citizen should be back of this project and fight any program of federal road projects which has for its object the obstruction of an easy access to Bismarck from the south country.

W. G. Black, engineer of the state highway commission, told Bismarck businessmen at the hearing before a federal official of the bureau of roads that he was not opposed to this cut off and would recommend it to the federal officials for inclusion in the general highway system of the state.

Regardless of the fact that some Morton county people object to a square deal, many in Morton county are anxious to build up as many feeders to the bridge as possible. Fort Yates and the Cannon Ball region are working to secure the acceptance of the cut-off as a part of the federal aid projects.

If Mandan business interests which seek to compel anyone from the south country desiring to come to Bismarck first to pass through their city are powerful enough to block this road, it will be maintained and improved at private expense. The entire road is now held in trust and is over private property and has been deeded over to certain businessmen who have been long-headed enough to project a road into this section to preserve communication with this district and to prevent all of the trade from being diverted to the Milwaukee at Mobridge, South Dakota.

The Association of Commerce is on record unqualifiedly for this project. Bismarck must look to its system of roads in every direction if it hopes to grow and prosper. On this side of the river no barriers have been set up to easy access to Mandan nor will any such short sighted policy ever obtain here.

FOREIGN-BORN
The 10 largest American cities have a combined population of more than 15 millions. Of these, nearly four millions are foreign-born residents of voting age.

No figures are available as to how many out of these four millions have become naturalized citizens. But a tremendous number still are outside of the fold.

What's become the Americanization movement that we heard so much about, a year or so ago? Every person living under our flag should have a voice in determining how he is to be governed. The only way to get that voice is by becoming a citizen. With national elections approaching, now is the time to impress this argument on the unnaturalized.

SPENDING
Government displays the genius of desperation in figuring out new ways to spend income tax money. Uncle Sam's "dairy statisticians" proudly announce that their extensive investigations disclose there are 3,000,000 coffee cows in the United States and 750,000 tea cows. By which, they mean it takes the entire yield of milk and cream from that many cows, for our coffee and tea.

What good does this sort of information do any one? It is typical of the activities of thousands who are on the payrolls of Uncle Sam, and mails are cluttered with their findings. You can safely bet that some of them will take a census of flies this year.

IRON
Iron production in April was 4 per cent less than in March. But the furnaces turned out 323 tons during the month for every 207 tons in April, 1922, and 360 tons in April, 1923.

Monthly production figures tell the real story, the truth. With iron output dropping only 4 per cent in April it's obvious that the iron and steel slump has not been nearly as bad as was rumored. A business slowdown usually occurs just before the presidential nominating convention. Generally trade swings back upward again after the candidates are selected.

BEAUTY
Too many young women neglect to give as much attention to the inside of their faces as to the outside, says Evelyn C. Schmidt of American Dental Association. She urges as much care for the teeth as for the complexion.

BETTER
Business is picking up a bit, according to latest reports from the railroads. They're handling more freight—less than a year ago, but far more than two and three years ago. Most of the drop, compared with this time of year in 1923, is in decreased coal shipments. Grain, livestock and general merchandise are being shipped on even a bigger scale than last year. Except for coal, the roads are close to breaking all freight-handling records for this season of the year.

BRAINS
On the way to work, we passed a banker humming jazz. A block farther on, a ditch-digger whistling grand opera. Brains and instinctive culture, like lightning, strike in unexpected places. Some of the finest brains in this country today are to be found in factory, shop, plowed field and humble home. Mentality is one form of wealth that cannot be cornered.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are discussed in the press of the day.

BOSSSES AND STATESMANSHIP

We have no desire to minimize Mr. Murphy's abilities; he was a shrewd boss with a dominating personality and an uncanny way of knowing how the winds of politics would blow.

But to discuss the history of such a man in terms of statesmanship is a grotesque perversion of the facts. Everyone familiar with New York politics is well aware that Mr. Murphy and his machine were successful only by making a mockery of the processes of political democracy.

Tammany controls the city government chiefly for a plain business reason: to make money. Probably the graft is rather less flagrant today than twenty-five years ago, but it exists just as emphatically as it ever did and if it were to be abolished, Tammany would go to pieces overnight.

It is a sufficient commentary on this situation that Mr. Murphy, who in his early years as a business man, had just intelligence enough to be a first class contractor and baker, in the two decades during which he has been "unemployed" as the head of Tammany, accumulated $500,000 and which may prove to be very much larger.

QUICK ACTION FROM TAX CUTS

The day after the reading of the New British budget prices began to fall in England. Tea sold for 8 cents cheaper, sugar for 7 cents cheaper.

This is partly because the government intends to take taxes off of these two commodities, or to lower them, and partly because dealers wished to get rid of stocks before the slump in price reached the bottom.

In any case, the happening illustrates the fact that British consumers get quicker action from legislation in their benefit than do American consumers.

This, we suspect, is for the reason, that Britons are not used to a continuous flood of laws and take seriously such laws as are passed. Here, laws come to us like water from a broken main.

WHY TAXES ARE HIGH

"Extension of remarks" may be a cherished habit with members of congress, but when carried to excess, as it was in a recent issue of the Congressional Record, in which fifteen pages were filled with reprint of advertising from a Washington paper, it becomes unduly expensive to the nation.

Representative Blanton's "extension," which included the reprint of advertising referred to, cost the United States government more than $1,000.

To aggravate this "extension," Mr. Blanton, who preaches economy when he is not practicing such extravagance, explains that it was offered not for legislative purposes, but for evidence of the passing of the emergency warranting continuance of the district rent commission which he expects thus to get before the United States supreme court.

This explanation suggests a confusion of understanding as to the purpose of legislative record that is overexpensive. —Washington Post.

19,000 BIBLES ARE SOUGHT

Gideons Would Distribute This Number in State

Minot, N. D., May 19.—Details of the tremendous amount of work connected with the task of the North Dakota Gideons in raising funds to purchase 19,000 Bibles with which to supply every hotel room in this state with a Bible were related here Saturday night by George F. Powell of Minneapolis before the annual state convention of the Gideons.

According to present plans, Mr. Powell said, the final cash offering will be completed on July 6 and as soon as arrangements can be made, a carload of Bibles, travelling by freight, will start on its long tour from New York City to North Dakota.

The entire side of the car, he said, will be placarded, bearing the words "The entrance of Thy Word giveth Light," and below this the text, "This car contains 19,000 Bibles for the guest rooms of the un-Bibled hotels of the State of North Dakota."

According to the plans announced, the shipment will come direct to Fargo, where upon its arrival, a large delegation will signal its entry and celebrate the event, during which time the Bibles will be handed out. From Fargo the Bibles will be distributed to various points throughout the state for further re-distribution at Minot, Grand Forks, Mandan, Bismarck, Jamestown, Valley City, Devils Lake, Wahpeton, Dickinson, Williston and other cities.

PRAISE CONFERENCE

Fargo, N. D., May 19.—Members of the Fargo Rotary club heard "Echoes of the Bismarck Convention" by several of its members at their weekly luncheon. "Of all the district Rotary conferences that I have attended, in the past five years, I really believe the Bismarck convention was the best," said W. H. McMillan. Fred Sheffield and Aubrey Lawrence also described parts of the convention.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER

Manitowoc, Wis., May 19.—A body, slightly decomposed, found in the river here today, was identified as that of George Ferry, marine fireman, missing since April 17. His home is said to be in Ferryville, Ont. The body came to the surface of the water immediately after a pere Marquette ship had passed up the river.

DENVER HAS FIRE

Denver, Colo., May 19.—Fire in the lumber yard of the Denver Wrecking and Construction company, in South Denver, caused an estimated damage of $15,000 before it was brought under control.

DADDY CRACKNUTS AND THE BUMBERSHOOT

"Mornin'," said old Daddy Cracknuts, pushing open the tinging door of Mister Bags' store, where the Twins were working.

"Mornin'," said Nancy and Nick, too.

"Nice day," said Mister Bags. "Yep! Nice for ducks," said Daddy Cracknuts. "I just knew it was going to rain! I set to Ma last night, sez I, 'Ma, the moon's tilted and that means wet weather. When it's tilted like that, I sez, it spills all the rain out! And I wuz right. It's so squishy this morning I want socky, sock, sock every step I took, and I'm as wet as a sponge. Achoo!"

"My, my! That's too bad," said Mister Bags. "I'm afraid you're catching cold, Daddy."

"I came to buy a bumbershoot," said Daddy presently.

"We don't sell guns," said Nick quickly. He was surprised at Daddy's remark because he knew how very much afraid of guns all the wood folk were.

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed Daddy. "A bumbershoot isn't a gun. It's an umbrella. I want an umbrella to keep me dry—and a pair of goloshes."

Daddy said the "go" very hard. "I have to go clear 'tother side of Stony Creek or an errand fer Ma."

"Why sure we can fit you out," said Mister Bags. "Here is a nice umbrella with a crooked handle to hang on your arm, and here are goloshes your very size."

So away started Daddy. But scarcely had he turned the corner when whirr! wheel! cee! A fierce wind nearly blew him off his feet.

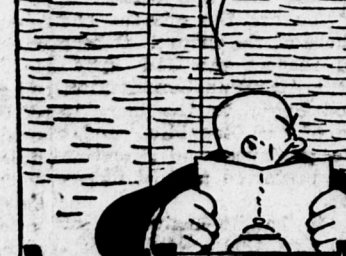

"My, my!" cried Daddy. "I never knew bumbershoots were so hard to hold. Jimmy Christmas! I wish that wind would stop!"

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

Got your letter, old scent, and am glad you're getting on so well. Am also glad that you feel it would be better to postpone your visit until Leslie's return. She will be home in two or three days.

She writes me that her sister Alice has developed into something surprising while she was in England. I gather from Leslie's letters—not from anything she says, but from the tone of them—that she is rather a disagreeable sort of young woman, and I have come to pity Karl Whitney with all my heart.

I think you would smile, Sidney, if you should see how many filial qualities I am developing. My mother came, you know, the day that Leslie went away. Of course I am very fond of her, but she is rather a capricious old lady, you know—believes in the superiority of the clan that descended from John Alden of Mayflower fame.

Since she has been here I have gone to church with her—think of that, Sidney! I have entertained the minister at dinner—and, by the way, Syd, I found him intensely interesting—very modern in his ideas, and thoroughly businesslike in his application of them to the needs of his congregation.

I don't think mother quite approved of him, especially as he smoked cigars after dinner, and discussed the influence of the latest play, the current movie, and the trend of politics. You would have thought that he was a very well informed man.

There was no can't or hypocrisy about him. I liked him well enough, Syd, to invite him to come again when Leslie was home.

Honestly, I didn't know that the modern preacher was so interesting. All that I remembered about a preacher was the one that used to scare us to death with the threat of eternal punishment, when I was a boy. Now they are more concerned with what you do here, and how you help to improve your race and your world rather than about the degree of heat which will probably sizzle you in the next.

Mother's nurse and companion, a Miss Anderson, is a very charming and clever woman, and she has the greatest influence over the matter. She has made it perfectly apparent to my mother that my house should be run for me and not for the sake of the servants and furniture in it. Mother did not even find any fault when I brought Mrs. Atherton home to dinner a half an hour late the other night.

Of course she has nothing to do with the running of the house, but I fully expected not only to be found fault with for being late to dinner, but also for bringing my secretary home with me. Miss Anderson very tactfully conveyed the news to mother, however, that Mrs. Atherton was an old school friend of Leslie's. I don't think mother, however, would have been so complacent had she known that Leslie's old school friend had never been in our house before. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

A NATION OF CRACK SHOTS

BY ALBERT APPLE

Long ago in the southwest, 300 Indians, under Cohise, chief of the White Mountain Apaches, swooped down on a stagecoach. The seven white men in the stage were "dead shots." For three days they "stood off" the 300 attackers. When the last of the seven had been killed, Cohise said: "If I had 300 men like these whites, I'd rule the southwest against all comers."

A nation's first line of defense is not its navy or its army organization, but rather the ability of the people to shoot straight.

In our country's early wars, every settler was an expert with a rifle. Small wonder, they made such excellent soldiers without much training.

They were crack shots because they used the rifle in everyday life, protecting their homes against Indians and in hunting game.

Life has become easier. Few Americans ever use a rifle or pistol until a war breaks out and they get into the army. During the World War, several million Americans learned to handle rifles and sidearms accurately. Now most of them are out of practice. Others don't even know how to load a modern rifle, let alone shoot.

On the theory that a nation's greatest defense is the ability of its citizens to shoot straight, the whole country should be interested in National Rifle Day, June 7. At least 100,000 Americans will participate in rifle tournaments. The number should be 100 times as big.

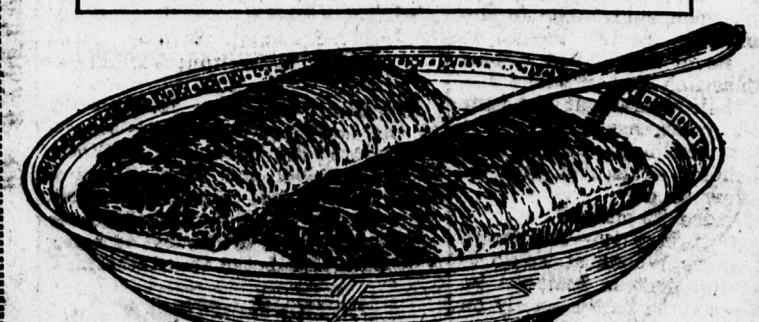

You have only to consider Switzerland to appreciate the importance of widespread expertness with the rifle. Rifle shooting is the national sport of the Swiss. It is taught in the schools. There's a military saying that every Swiss man is a sharp-shooter.

When the Family Votes

for a cereal for breakfast, or any other meal, you can be sure that the majority will be for Shredded Wheat. It is eaten in more homes, on more days of the year than any other ready-cooked cereal. Children fed on Shredded Wheat seldom care for a mushy porridge. The crisp, savory shreds of baked whole wheat appeal to their appetites, and the chewing develops sound teeth and healthy gums. Two biscuits make a nourishing meal.

Doctors Prescribe Shredded Wheat
I find that a large percentage of my patients are ill due to errors in diet. I am always glad to prescribe your Shredded Wheat Biscuit as a health food. They are a part of the daily menu in my own family.

There are four teams in the league, the Lehr Motor Sales, the Bank of North Dakota, the Railroads and the Hardware.

It is planned to play each Tuesday and Friday evening at 6:30 p. m. the schedule calling for the opening contest May 27. The first exhibition games, in which all four teams will participate, playing a few innings each, is scheduled for next Thursday night.

Children's Day At St. Mary's

About 200 children renewed their baptismal vows and received their first holy communion at the 8 o'clock Mass held at St. Mary's pro-cathedral yesterday morning. More than seventy of the little children received their communion. Father Slag in the course of his sermon made an appeal to the fathers and mothers of the children to be their guide and counsel and help them to keep the vows taken at the service held yesterday. The altar was beautifully decorated and the church was further beautified by the new stations which had been purchased and hung in place the past week.

These match the new side altars and altar rail which were purchased at Christmas time.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the time of the May devotions, the children receiving their communion were enrolled in the Scapular.

Gideons To Aid Prohibition

Minot, N. D., May 19.—A. L. Bishop of Fargo was re-elected as President and Valley City was chosen as the 1925 meeting city of the North Dakota Gideon Society, in annual meeting here, previous to adjournment last evening. Resolutions adopted by the Gideons included a pledge to actively support the 18th amendment and also the North Dakota law prohibiting the smoking in dining rooms of hotels and other eating places. The resolutions further pledged the Gideons to support of the association's present Bible campaign. Henry M. Gay of Minot was elected secretary of the state association and H. W. Rife of Wahpeton was elected state treasurer.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE
Some persons prefer comedy as the piece de resistance of their motion picture bill of fare; many like pure romance; others confess a desire for adventure and hair-raising "thrillers." All of these classes will find their wishes fulfilled in "Painted People," to be seen at the Eltinge theatre today and tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday. It is taken from the Collier's Weekly story, "The Swamp Angel."

The author, Richard Connell, is one of the foremost humorists of the day and he has supplied laughs without end.

Thrilling the footage is a love story of tender appeal—one that will be relished by every type of theatre-goer, with Ben Lyon playing opposite the star.

FEW TITLES USED IN MARY PICKFORD FILM

An appreciative feature in "Rosita," Mary Pickford's latest United Artists attraction, coming to the Capitol Theatre tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday, is the scarcity of titles in this production.

An average of less than ten per reel is the maximum number of subtitles throughout this special feature photoplay. Only titles of necessity are embodied in the story. The swiftly moving action combined with the dramatic portrayal of the competent cast of principles, under the capable direction of Ernst Lubitsch, tells this romantic tale of old Spain so clearly and thoroughly, hence the scarcity of annoying and unnecessary subtitles.

The story is replete with thrilling incidents, scenes of dramatic intensity, interwoven through the picturesque surroundings of Spanish life of the Eighteenth century; spectacular scenes of carnival commingling with palatial splendor, while intrigue and romance predominate.

The entire story is unfolded in a straightforward manner and the freshness of explanatory titles adds greatly to the entertainment which Mary Pickford in "Rosita" brings to this city.

North Dakota Delegation to General Federation Will Leave Next Week

BIG MEETING PLANNED

Delegates will leave the latter part of next week for the 17th biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held in Los Angeles the next week of June. All delegates from Bismarck and Mandan will join the special train that leaves St. Paul for Los Angeles. Delegates may select either one of two routes.

Mrs. W. H. Stutsman of Mandan has gone to Minneapolis to spend a week or ten days in that city, visiting with her daughter, who is a student of the Minnesota State University, and with other friends before leaving for California. Mrs. L. M. Cary of Mandan, Mrs. Alfred Zuger and son Jack and Mrs. Mary McLean are among those planning to leave the latter part of next week for the Twin Cities to join the Club women of the state in that city. A number of the Bismarck Club women who have spent the winter in California are planning to remain there until after the biennial meeting.

The California Club women plan to make this one of the best biennial sessions in the history of the General Federation. A number of important features are to be taken up at this meeting among which will be the consideration of The World's Peace and the Court of International Relations and a discussion of the Immigration question, which seems vitally important to each section of the United States.

Part of Discussion
Since regulating the inflow of immigrants has important bearing on international relations, the immigration question will be among those discussed and possibly acted upon during the 17th annual biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Los Angeles June 3-13. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and National Chairman of the Department of International Relations, is expected to recommend approval of the enactment of legislation advocated by D. Chauncey Brewer, President of the North American Civic League for Immigrants, in speaking before the Manufacturers Association of Connecticut, calling for such "sane federal regulation of immigrants and resident aliens as shall not interfere with the industrial requirements of the country." Mr. Brewer's plan provided for:

Efficient inspection at the docks; Safe transfer to destination of immigrants whose papers indicate they expect to join friends or relatives at defined points;

Holding of all other immigrants in suitable quarters at ports of entry until they can be distributed to advantage of the community;

Registration of each immigrant and resident alien with a designated official, to whom the aforesaid alien shall thereafter make periodical reports;

Limitation of alien residence to a reasonable period, within which time the alien may be naturalized, if he is able to comply with the requirements of carefully framed naturalization laws.

A number of the delegates plan to visit with relatives and friends on the Pacific coast before returning to the city. The rates for the convention will be effective until late in the season.

Quick heat for cooking

WHEN you are rushed to get your meals promptly, you won't have to waste time fussing and fuming over a slow stove if you cook on a Florence Oil Range.

The Florence gives you intense heat for speedy cooking. Just touch a match to the Asbestos Kindler—in a few moments the kettle begins to sing and the pot to chuckle.

You can prepare every dish for the biggest dinner on this modern range.

When you are not using the fire, merely turn it out. This means a cooler kitchen in summer and it means economy. And, remember, there are no soot and ashes, no shaking the fire.

There are four teams in the league, the Lahr Motor Sales, the Bank of North Dakota, the Railroad and the Hardware.

It is planned to play each Tuesday and Friday evening at 6:30 p. m., the schedule calling for the opening contest May 27.

The first exhibition games, in which all four teams will participate, playing a few innings each, is scheduled for next Thursday night.

Children's Day At St. Mary's

About 200 children renewed their baptismal vows and received their first holy communion at the 8 o'clock Mass held at St. Mary's cathedral yesterday morning. More than seventy of the little children received their communion. Father Slag in the course of his sermon made an appeal to the fathers and mothers of the children to be their guide and counsel and help them to keep the vows taken at the service held yesterday. The altar was beautifully decorated and the church was further beautified by the new stations which had been purchased and hung in place the past week.

These match the new side altar and altar rail which were purchased at Christmas time.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock the time of the May devotions, the children receiving their communion were enrolled in the Scapular.

Gideons To Aid Prohibition

Minot, N. D., May 19.—A. L. Bishop of Fargo was re-elected as President and Valley City was chosen as the 1925 meeting city of the North Dakota Gideon Society, in annual meeting here, previous to adjournment last evening. Resolutions adopted by the Gideons included a pledge to actively support the 18th amendment and also the North Dakota law prohibiting the smoking in dining rooms of hotels and other eating places. The resolutions further pledged the Gideons to support of the association's present Bible campaign. Henry M. Gay of Minot was elected secretary of the state association and H. W. Rife of Wahpeton was elected state treasurer.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE

All of these classes will find their wishes fulfilled in "Painted People," to be seen at the Eltinge theatre today and tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday. It is taken from the Collier's Weekly story, "The Swamp Angel."

The author, Richard Connell, is one of the foremost humorists of the day and he has supplied laughs without end.

Thrilling the footage is a love story of tender appeal—one that will be relished by every type of theatre-goer, with Ben Lyon playing opposite the star.

FEW TITLES USED IN MARY PICKFORD FILM

An appreciative feature in "Rosita," Mary Pickford's latest United Artists attraction, coming to the Capitol Theatre to-night, Tuesday and Wednesday, is the fewness of titles in this production.

An average of less than ten per reel is the maximum number of subtitles throughout this special feature photoplay. Only titles of necessity are embodied in the story. The swiftly moving action combined with the dramatic portrayal of the competent cast of principles, under the capable direction of Ernst Lubitsch, tells this romantic tale of old Spain so clearly and thoroughly, hence the scarcity of annoying and unnecessary subtitles.

The story is replete with thrilling incidents, scenes of dramatic intensity, interwoven through the picturesque surroundings of Spanish life of the Eighteenth century; spectacular scenes of carnival co-mingling with palatial splendor, while intrigue and romance predominate.

The entire story is unfolded in a straightforward manner and the fewness of explanatory titles adds greatly to the entertainment which Mary Pickford in "Rosita," brings to this city.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are discussed in the press of the day.

BONNES AND STATESHIP

We have no desire to minimize Mr. Murphy's abilities. He was a shrewd boss with a dominating personality and an unerring way of knowing how the winds of politics would blow.

But to discuss the history of such a man in terms of statesmanship is a grotesque perversion of the facts.

Everyone familiar with New York politics is well aware that Mr. Murphy and his machine were successful only by means of a mockery of the processes of political democracy.

Tammany controls the city government chiefly for a plain business reason: to make money. Probably the graft is rather less flagrant today than in the days of Tammany, but it exists in an emphatically as it ever did and it were to be abolished, Tammany would go to pieces overnight.

It is a sufficient commentary on this situation that Mr. Murphy, who in his early years as a boss man had just intelligence enough to be a first-rate con-man and a second-rate politician, in the two decades during which he has been "employed" as the head of Tammany, accumulated $500,000 and which may prove to be very much larger.

The respect with which his death was received by the New York press, including some papers which were his political enemies, is the respect which in America goes to any man who has "made good," no matter how unimpeachable the field of his accomplishments. The New Republic.

QUICK ACTION FROM TAX CUTS

The day after the reading of the New British budget prices began to fall in England. Tea sold for 8 cents cheaper, sugar for 7 cents cheaper.

This is partly because the government intends to take taxes off of these two commodities, but to lower them and partly because dealers, wishing to get rid of stocks before the slump in price reached the bottom.

In any case, the happening illustrates the fact that British consumers get quicker action from legislation in their benefit than do American consumers.

This we suspect, is for the reason that Britons are not used to a continuous flood of laws and take seriously such laws as are passed. Here, laws come to us like water from a broken main.

We expect most of these laws to be plain nuisances. When one comes along that is really beneficial we wait for a practical demonstration before believing in it. Advance notices of a flattering nature mean nothing.—Toledo Blade.

WHY TAXES ARE HIGH

"Extension of remarks" may be a cherished habit with members of the Congress, but when carried to excess, as it was in a recent issue of the Congressional Record, in which fifteen pages were filled with reprint of advertising from a Washington paper, it becomes unduly expensive to the nation.

Representative Blanton's "extension," which included the reprint of advertising referred to, cost the United States government more than $1,000.

To aggravate this "extension," Mr. Blanton, who preaches economy when he is not practicing extravagance, explains that it was offered not for legislative purposes, but for evidence of the passing of the emergency warranting continuance of the district rent commission which he expects this to get before the United States supreme court.

This explanation suggests a confusion of understanding as to the purpose of legislative record that is unexpensive.—Washington Post.

BEAUTY

Too many young women neglect to give as much attention to the inside of their faces as to the outside, says Evelyn C. Schmidt of American Dental Association. She urges as much care for the teeth as for the complexion.

The two are related. Neglected teeth—unclean and decaying—poison the body and ruin the complexion. Real beauty is a by-product of health. The most alluring peach bloom of the cheek is not sold at the drug store.

BETTER

Business is picking up a bit, according to latest reports from the railroads. They're handling more freight—less than a year ago, but far more than two and three years ago.

Most of the drop, compared with this time of year in 1923, is in decreased coal shipments. Grain, livestock and general merchandise are being shipped on even a bigger scale than last year. Except for coal, the roads are close to breaking all freight-handling records for this season of the year.

BRAINS

On the way to work, we passed a banker humming jazz. A block farther on, a ditch-digger whistling grand opera.

Brains and instinctive culture, like lightning, strike in unexpected places. Some of the finest brains in this country today are to be found in factory, shop, plowed field and humble home. Mentality is one form of wealth that cannot be measured.

19,000 BIBLES ARE SOUGHT

Gideons Would Distribute This Number in State

Minot, N. D., May 19.—Details of the tremendous amount of work concurrent with the task of the North Dakota Gideons in raising funds to purchase 19,000 Bibles with which to supply every hotel room in this state will be completed on July 6 and as soon as arrangements can be made, a carload of Bibles, travelling by freight, will start on its long tour from New York City to North Dakota.

The entire sides of the car, he said, will be placarded, bearing the words "The entrance of Thy Word giveth Light," and below this the text, "This car contains 19,000 Bibles for the guest rooms of the un-Bibled hotels of the State of North Dakota."

According to the plans announced, the shipment will come direct to Fargo, where upon its arrival, a large delegation will signal its entry and celebrate the event, during which time the Bibles will be handed out.

From Fargo the Bibles will be distributed to various points throughout the state for further re-distribution at Minot, Grand Forks, Mandan, Bismarck, Jamestown, Valley City, Devils Lake, Wahpeton, Dickinson, Williston and other cities.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

DADDY CRACKNUTS AND THE BUMBERSHOOT

"Mornin'," said old Daddy Cracknuts, pushing open the tinging door of Mister Bagg's store, where the Twins were working.

"Mornin', Daddy," said Mister Bagg.

"Mornin'," said Nancey and Nick, too.

"Nice day," said Mister Bagg.

"Yep! Nice for ducks," said Daddy Cracknuts. "I just knew it was going to rain! I see to Ma last night, sez I, 'Ma, the moon's tilted and that means we weather. When it's tilted like that, I sez, it rains all the rain out.' And I wuz right. It's so squishy this mornin' I want to sock, sock, sock every step I took, and I'm as wet as a sponge. Achoo!"

"My, my! That's too bad," said Mister Bagg. "I'm afraid you're catching cold, Daddy."

"I came to buy a bumbershoot," said Daddy presently.

"We don't sell guns," said Nick quickly. He was surprised at Daddy's remark because he knew how very much afraid of guns all the wood folk were.

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed Daddy. "A bumbershoot isn't a gun. It's an umbrella. I want an umbrella to keep me dry—and a pair of goloshes." Daddy said the "go" very hard. "I have to go clear 'tother side of Stony Creek or an errand for Ma."

"Why sure we can fit you out," said Mister Bagg. "Here is a nice umbrella with a crooked handle to hang on your arm, and here are goloshes your very size."

So away started Daddy.

But secretly had he turned the corner when whirr! wheel! ooo! A fierce wind nearly blew him off his feet.

"My, my!" cried Daddy. "I never knew bumbershoots were so hard to hold. Jimmy Christmas! I wish that wind would stop!"

To add to his troubles, he had a feeling that someone was following him.

He nearly dropped his umbrella and basket and everything, when he saw a long red nose and the tip of a bushy tail sticking out on two sides of a bush. "It's Reddy Fox," he shivered. "A pretty kettle of fish I'm in."

Suddenly Reddy made a rush and in about three seconds he'd have had old Daddy by the tail, but at that instant the wind went whirr! Wheel! harder than ever, and catching in Daddy's umbrella, it lifted the squirrel gentleman right up in the air over Reddy's head.

And thump, thump! Something hit Reddy two dreadful whacks on the nose and he ran away howling at exactly the right minute.

Daddy stopped in the store on his way home. "Gun nothing!" he cried. "A bumbershoot is ten times as good. I'll bet you Reddy Fox is running yet."

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY GARTON

Got you letter, old scout, and am glad you're getting on so well. Am also glad that you feel it would be better to postpone your visit until Leslie's return. She will be home in two or three days.

She writes me that her sister Alice has developed into something surprising while she was in England. I gather from Leslie's letters, not from anything she says, but from the tone of them—that she is rather a disagreeable sort of young woman, and I have come to pity Karl Whitney with all my heart.

I think you would smile, Sidney, if you should see how many filial qualities I am developing. My mother, or came, you know, the day that Leslie went away. Of course I am very fond of her, but she is rather a tiresome old lady, you know—believes in the superiority of the clan that descended from John Alden of Mayflower fame.

Since she has been here I have gone to church with her—think of that, Sidney! I have entertained the minister at dinner—and, by the way, Syd, I found him intensely interesting—very modern in his ideas, and thoroughly businesslike in his application of them to the needs of his congregation.

I don't think mother quite approved of him, especially as he smoked cigars after dinner, and discussed the influence of the latest play, the current movie, and the trend of politics. You would have thought that he was a very well informed man.

There was no can't or hypocritism about him. I liked him well enough, Syd, to invite him to come again when Leslie was home.

Honestly, I didn't know that the modern preacher was so interesting. All that I remembered about a preacher was the one that used to assure us to death with the threat of eternal punishment, when I was a boy. Now they are more concerned with what you do here, and how you help to improve your race and your world rather than about the degree of heat which will probably sizzle you in the next.

Mother's nurse and companion, a Miss Anderson, is a very charming and clever woman, and she has the greatest influence over the matter. She has made it perfectly apparent to my mother that my house should be run for me and not for the sake of the servants and furniture in it. Mother did not even find any fault when I brought Mrs. Atherton home to dinner a half an hour late the other night.

Of course she has nothing to do with the running of the house, but I fully expected not only to be found fault with for being late to dinner, but also for bringing my secretary home with me. Miss Anderson very tactfully conveyed the news to mother, however, that Mrs. Atherton was an old school friend of Leslie's. I don't think mother, however, would have been so complacent had she known that Leslie's old school friend had never been in our house before. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

A NATION OF CRACK SHOTS BY ALBERT APPLE

Long ago in the southwest, 300 Indians, under Cohise, chief of the White Mountain Apaches, swooped down on a stagecoach. The seven white men in the stage were "dead shots." For three days they "stood off" the 300 attackers.

When the last of the seven had been killed, Cohise said: "If I had 300 men like these whites, I'd rule the southwest against all comers."

A nation's first line of defense is not its navy or its army organization, but rather the ability of the people to shoot straight.

In our country's early wars, every settler was an expert with a rifle. Small wonder, they made such excellent soldiers without much training.

They were crack shots because they used the rifle in everyday life, protecting their homes against Indians and in hunting game.

Life has become easier. Few Americans ever use a rifle or pistol until a war breaks out and they get into the army.

During the World War, several million Americans learned to handle rifles and sidearms accurately. Now most of them are out of practice. Others don't even know how to load a modern rifle, let alone shoot.

On the theory that a nation's greatest defense is the ability of its citizens to shoot straight, the whole country should be interested in National Rifle Day, June 7. At least 100,000 Americans will participate in rifle tournaments.

The number should be 100 times as big.

You have only to consider Switzerland to appreciate the importance of widespread expertness with the rifle. Rifle shooting is the national sport of the Swiss. It is taught in the schools. There's a military saying that every Swiss man is a sharp-shooter.

That's why Switzerland wasn't invaded during the war.

When the Family Votes

for a cereal for breakfast, or any other meal, you can be sure that the majority will be for Shredded Wheat. It is eaten in more homes, on more days of the year than any other ready-cooked cereal. Children fed on Shredded Wheat seldom care for a mushy porridge. The crisp, savory shreds of baked whole wheat appeal to their appetites, and the chewing develops sound teeth and healthy gums. Two biscuits make a nourishing meal.

Doctors Prescribe Shredded Wheat

B.H.S. ATHLETES WIN POINTS IN N.D. TRACK MEET

Enter "On Their Own." Unexpectedly and Without Special Training

Two Bismarck high school athletes, who went to Grand Forks to participate in the state high school meet "on their own" and unexpectedly, pulled five points out of the meet, Saturday. Register gave them the Warwick youth who was reported to have set a new interscholastic record in the mile run at a meet in Devils Lake, a hard fight, and won second. Noddings came out in third place in the 440-yard dash in which a new state record was made.

The teams finished as follows: Fargo 41, Grand Forks 21, Oakes 16, Pembina 10, Devils Lake 8, Valley City 5, Bismarck 5, Hope 5, Warwick 5, Carson 5, Jamestown 4, Minn. 3, St. Thomas 3, Minn. 3, Lakota 3. The complete results of the meet follow:

220 Yard Low Hurdles
McCracken, Grand Forks, first; Fuller, Fargo, second; Powelson, Fargo, third; Fisher, Fargo, fourth; Time 25-5 seconds. (New state record.)

Pole Vault
Thompson, Devils Lake, first; Lee, Valley City, second; Fargo and Eberly, Valley City tied for second third and fourth. Heights, 11 feet 5-8 inches. (New state record.)

Shot Put

B.H.S. BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY

Scheduled to Meet Wilton Here Tuesday at 4 p. m.

The Bismarck high school baseball team, the first in the field for many years at least, is slated to play Wilton high school here at 4 p. m. The local team journeyed to Wilton recently and won 9 to 8. A close return game is expected. Carson high school may play here May 24 and Mandan also wants a game. The local high school team, with Jess Scroggins as manager and Shepard as captain, lines up as follows: catcher, Shepard; pitchers, Kiebert, Olson; first base, Jess Scroggins; second base, Kamins; third base, Hillman; shortstop, Livdahl; left field, Coleman; center field, Leveno; right field, Carlson; substitutes, Blunt, Anderson, Yeasley.

BLACK GOLD DERBY VICTOR

West Triumphs Over East in Most Famous Horse Race

Louisville, May 19.—West triumphed over the east for the first time since 1921 in the historic Kentucky derby Saturday when Black Gold, the favorite, won the race by a scant half length in a slashing drive to the wire defeating 18 of the noblest three year olds in training, before a crowd of 75,000 to 80,000 persons, the greatest throng that ever witnessed a horse race in America.

Has Amazing History
The racing achievements of Black Gold is one of the amazing stories of track history. The little jetblack colt, the son of Black Toney-Uscit, was lightly regarded by the winter forecasters of the winner who have such names as Wise, Counsellor, St. James and Sarazen on which to speculate. Black Gold at one time during the winter back was a 100 to 1 shot in today's race and until three weeks ago the price was 40 to 1 on him. When he flashed across the wire a winner this afternoon his backers cashed $5.50 for every $2 wagered in the mutuels on his chances. The price on Chilhowee to place was $12.50 and on Beau Butler to show was $4.70.

Black Gold first came into racing prominence last year when as a two year old he won several impressive victories. His worthiness as a derby contender was further strengthened by his victory in the Louisiana derby at New Orleans last winter when he pumped home an easy winner by six lengths. His friends stamped to his chances last Tuesday when he won a derby trial here at one mile in 1:37-4-5 over a track that was slightly sluggish.

YANKS BEAT UHLE JINX

Defeat Cleveland Pitcher and Mates in 8 to 0 Game

Chicago, May 19.—The New York Yankees scored an impressive 8 to 0 victory over Cleveland Sunday, and ended the "Uhle jinx," beating pitcher Uhle who won six out of seven games he pitched against the Yankees last season. Bob Shawkey pitched a strong game for the Yankees.

The Browns copped a tilt with Washington, 6 to 3 making four runs in the ninth. Boston was defeated by Detroit, 5 to 4.

In the Nationals, Cincinnati beat Brooklyn, 5 to 4, in a hotly contested game. Philadelphia beat Chicago, 8 to 5, while St. Louis nosed out Boston, 5 to 4.

St. Paul, in the Americans, drew up alongside Indianapolis by defeating Minneapolis.

Billy Evans Says

There seem to be no limit to the disputes that can arise on the ball field.

No sport produces anywhere near the number of unusual situations that happen in the national pastime.

Not a season passes in the major leagues but what one or more freak happenings arise to test the sound judgment of some rule that has been in the book for years.

No matter where the game is played, situations come up that test the mettle of the umpire and the temper of the crowd.

Recently I received the following communication with Harry Dockery, Balboa, Panama Canal Zone. A perusal of his letter will immediately convince you that his position in the game in question was far from an enviable one.

Strangely enough, the play that caused the argument in the Canal Zone game once came up in a world series. It was in 1911, when the Athletics played the Giants. Bill Klem was the umpire.

"During the recent visit of the Pacific fleet to the Canal Zone in April, a series of three games were arranged to decide the championship of the United States navy," writes Dockery.

"The Battle Fleet picked a team to represent the visitors, while Coco Solo, which is a submarine base here, was chosen to defend the division. I have been an umpire in the local baseball league for 10 years and was selected to work the series."

"The Battle Fleet won the first game, 3 to 2. Coco Solo taking the second, 6 to 3. We arrived at the third game without any difficulty other than the usual kicks that happen in any ball game."

"The goals on both sides had been everything down to their shoe-laces, and nerves had about reached the breaking point when the third game started."

"At the end of the ninth inning the score stood a tie at 1 to 1, and tension ran high."

"In the last of the eleventh, with a runner on second and none out for the Battle Fleet, a pinch hitter came through with a single to center."

"The runner from second preferred to try to score standing up. The ball arrived at the plate at almost the same time as the runner, but a trifle to one side."

"The catcher swung around to touch the runner, who pulled away just enough to miss the touch. In so doing, the runner missed home plate."

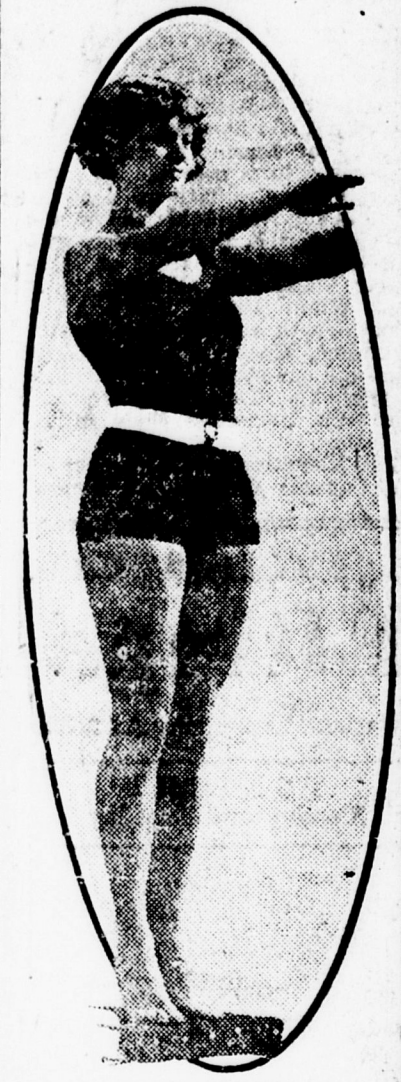

"I made no decision on the play, except to shake my head and say 'No!' when the catcher turned to me and said 'I tagged him!' I waited momentarily to see if anyone had noticed the missing of the plate. No further play was made. I walked to my dressing room. Did I handle the play correctly?"

You certainly did. It was a ticklish situation, requiring much courage. The missing of the plate with the winning run going over is a tough spot for the umpire."

Just how long he should tarry around the plate is a question. The umpire must not make the play, and by waiting around too long place himself in the position of tipping off the mistake."

Larry Doyle once won a world series game by a great slide for the Giants from the Athletics, and Umpire Bill Klem, in the most trying spot did just as you did. Had an appeal been made and the plate touched, he would have called the runner out."

HOPES TO MAKE OLYMPIC TEAM

EVA SCHULTZ

A possible contender for the women's fancy diving title at the Olympic games is Eva Schultz, senior in physical education at Oregon Agricultural College.

"Miss Schultz is the first girl of my knowledge who has successfully accomplished the difficult two and one-half somersault dive," says Louis Kuehn, world's champion diver.

The national tryouts for the Olympic games will be held either in San Francisco or Chicago next year.

Season May Close Cobb's Career

Detroit, May 19.—While no definite announcement has been made, it is understood that this year will be Cobb's last year as a regular player. Cobb came to the Detroit club in 1907. At the close of this season he will have finished his twentieth season as one of the shining lights of the American League.

Last season Cobb showed up considerable. It was generally noticeable. Cobb, himself, admitted that he no longer was a speed merchant on the paths. He lost at least 20 hits last year he would have easily beaten out 10 years ago.

Cobb is proud of his great record, as well he should be. He frankly admits that he never wants his play to slip so much that the crowd starts to boo him. He recalls that Lajoie and Wagner suffered such a fate in the final stages of their big league careers.

"Nothing like that for me," says Cobb. "When I see that I am a has-been, it's a seat on the bench for me."

Cobb says the thought of permanently retiring is still some years distant, but instead of a regular he will probably play utility roles at the close of 1924.

Preparation of stains with which pathologists color bacilli to be studied under a microscope is said to be smallest British industry.

MANDAN NEWS

REPORT LOSSES

Insurance adjusters here report the loss of three farm homes in the slope district during the last week by fire.

The heaviest loss was sustained at the Wm. Mohrer farm near Mott when a large barn, nine sets of harness and 15 head of horses were destroyed. The horses were not insured and there was but $300 insurance on the barn.

George Zellar, farming 15 miles northeast of Elgin, lost his barn, one cow and one horse in a fire. Zellar, returning from an errand to adjoining farms, found the barn in flames. He entered, untied the livestock and rushed them out.

ENTERS RACE

Michael Tschida, a resident of Morton county since 1887, and one of the most widely known men in the county, has announced himself as a candidate for the republican nomination to the state legislature and friends are busy circulating petitions throughout the county. Mr. Tschida who for many years has been engaged in the real estate business at Glen Ullin announces himself on a platform of rigid economy in state operation and tax reduction along all lines consistent with good government. His general business experience has been a varied one and such as to make him thoroughly familiar with the needs of the taxpayers in Morton county. He has for years been a leader in every booster or development project in the west end of the county and is expected to poll a large vote.

COPPER WIRE IS LONGER IN SUMMER TIME

A mile of outside copper telephone wire in North Dakota is about 4 3/4 feet longer in summer than it is in winter, while the difference in length of iron wire is about 3 1/3 feet per mile, according to telephone engineers.

When telephone linemen string wire in summer, they allow the wire to sag more between poles than they do in winter. This is done in order to prevent the wire from stretching too tight in winter and breaking. In the past a large number of wires have gotten too tight, but this is being gradually overcome by allowing a little more sag. By far most of the wire breaks in winter are caused from steel storms. A half-inch of sleet on a mile of telephone wire weighs about 1 1/2 tons.

Only 47 per cent of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company's wire in North Dakota is exposed to sleet storm damage and to breakage because of getting too tight in cold weather. Twenty-seven per cent of the wire is in underground cable, and 26 per cent is in underground cable.

Underground cable is expensive to lay, and is used only in the cities where a large number of wires must be brought through crowded streets.

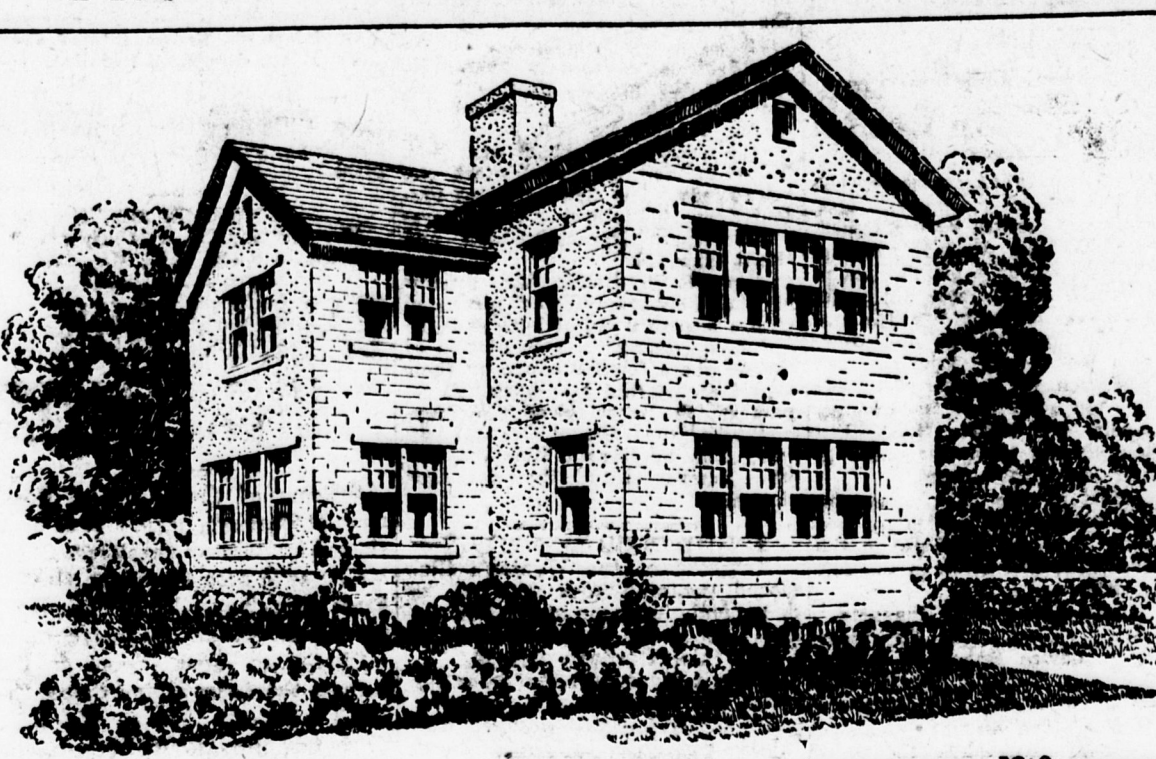

If the wires required in a big city were carried overhead, the streets would be choked with poles and wires.

TULLE SCARFS

Tulle scarfs may match the frock in color or they may differ. Violet tulle with a gray frock, or red with black, or orchid with pink, are successful combinations.

Cobb is proud of his great record, as well he should be. He frankly admits that he never wants his play to slip so much that the crowd starts to boo him. He recalls that Lajoie and Wagner suffered such a fate in the final stages of their big league careers.

"The Whitehaven"—An Unusual Plan

A Solid Substantial Home for the Average Family

The sturdy simplicity of this fine home is sure to please those looking for solid comfort without display. A two-story house for a single family, the Whitehaven has an unusual plan.

It is designed for a southern frontage with the dining room having windows on three sides, so it is really a sun room. Seven windows are provided in this room alone. A concrete floor colored with cement floor tile or terrazzo will make this a really delightful room, radiating comfort.

The living room is 15 by 17 feet and opens into the sunny dining room and also into the hall at the front entrance. Seven windows are also provided in this room, which with the large spacious fireplace, makes a very attractive room in which to entertain company. The kitchen has entrance from the front hall and also the dining room; and is a commodious pantry with a window is provided in one corner.

Upstairs are three fine bedrooms of various sizes; two have windows on three sides, and one has windows on two sides which provide excellent cross ventilation so necessary to healthful sleep. Five closets, two of regulation size and one extra large, provide plenty of room for clothes. The bathroom is located at the head of the stairway and is easily accessible from all of the bedrooms through a short hallway.

Walls of this building are planned to be built of smooth faced concrete block, which are dry, waterproof, and warm. The roof will be covered with concrete roofing tile of cement asbestos shingles. For fire-safety the combination of such roofing with concrete block walls cannot be excelled.

This house, which is 30 feet in width, can be accommodated on a lot 40 feet in width or more. The depth of the house is 37 feet, and allowing for a spacious front lawn, the rear yard will be of good dimensions.

RIBBON HATS

Ribbon hats may be made of narrow half-inch widths, or the satin-backed variety that may be a foot wide. Roman striped ribbons are wound into very effective turbans.

WIDE BRIMS

Very wide-brimmed hats of coarse straw highly varnished are shown for midsummer wear, those of lacquer red being the most striking and the most popular.

FABRIC HATS

Smart fabric hats with scarfs to match are very good with tailored suits or coats.

PUBLIC ECONOMY

RUB—I have stopped drinking. RUB—That will save your friends a lot of money!—Life.

Youngest Generation Takes To Syncopation

Artists. Married. Evolve to Music Cut-outs That Really Dance; the Delight of Children Everywhere

"The very youngest of that active younger generation has taken to syncopation," says Berta Hader who in partnership with her husband, Elmer Hader, evolves cut-outs that American youngsters all over the country adore.

The latest Hader creation is Tiddling Tootsie, the paper doll that, to keep up with the modern trend, really dances.

"It took several months of experiment to music to bring Tootsie to life," explains Mrs. Hader. "We finally turned the trick to the tune of 'Don't Mind the Rain, a fox-trot dance with a springtime lilt that reminds you of babies frolicking."

"Tootsie does all the new dances by means of her small owner's fingers, which serve as her legs. The doll fits on the hands and the fingers go into her little shoes."

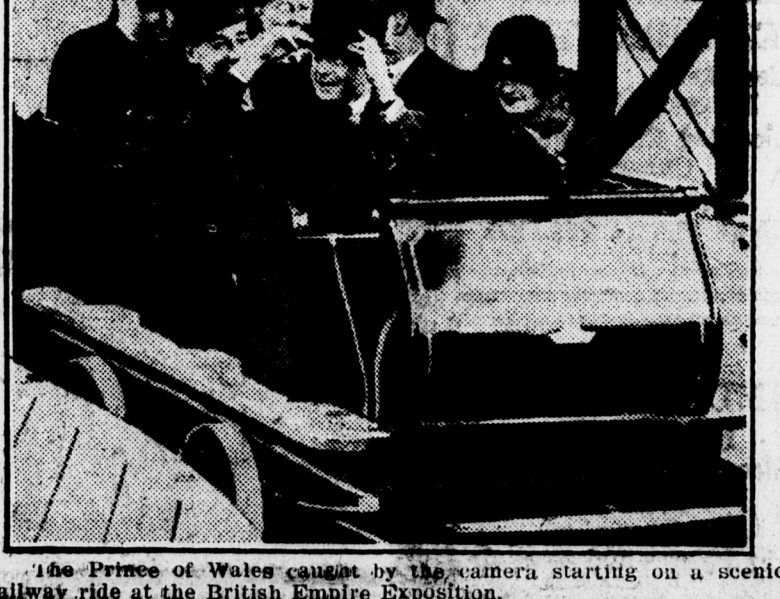

The Hader cut-outs are appearing in Good Housekeeping, McCall's and other magazines.

Stockingless Summer Girls Stylish

First they wore them rolled down. Then came cut hose, and this season it's no stockings at all at Atlantic seaboard resorts. Already summer girls have appeared with unclad ankles, and these young ladies were found "minus" on the Coney Island boardwalk. They are Ethel Lang and Helen Nielson.

HIS HIGHNESS HOLDS HIS SEAT

WEAR FLOWERS
With the bateau neckline it is quite a fad to wear a flower on the shoulder—a gardenia, orchid or a red carnation.

EVENING FROCKS
While white frocks are still most popular for evening for young women and old alike, a delicate pink is being used considerably.

LACE IS POPULAR
For the afternoon or dinner frock nothing is more popular than lace, in natural or dyed shades. Black lace is particularly favored.

B.H.S. ATHLETES WIN POINTS IN N.D. TRACK MEET

Enter "On Their Own." Unexpectedly and Without Special Training

Two Bismarck high school athletes, who went to Grand Forks to participate in the state high school meet "on their own" and unexpectedly, pulled five points out of the meet Saturday. Register gave Jerome, the Warwick youth who was reported to have set a new intercollegiate record in the mile run at a meet in Devils Lake, a hard fight, and won second. Noddings came out in third place in the 140-yard dash in which a new state record was made.

The teams finished as follows: Fargo 11, Grand Forks 21, Oakes 16, Pembina 10, Devils Lake 8, Valley City 5, Bismarck 5, Hope 3, Warrenton 3, Carson 3, Jamestown 1, Minnor 4, Rollette 4, Ashley 3, St. Thomas 3, Minnewaukan 3, Lakota 1.

B.H.S. BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY

Scheduled to Meet Wilton Here Tuesday at 4 p. m.

The Bismarck high school baseball team, the first in the field for many years, at least, is slated to play Wilton high school here at 4 p. m. The local team journeyed to Wilton recently and won 9 to 8. A close return game is expected. Carson high school may play here May 24 and Mandan also wants a game.

The local high school team, with Jess Scroggins as manager and Sheppard as captain, lined up as follows:

BLACK GOLD DERBY VICTOR

West Triumphs Over East in Most Famous Horse Race

Louisville, May 19.—West triumphed over the east for the first time since 1921 in the historic Kentucky derby Saturday when Black Gold, the favorite, won the race by a scant half length in a flashing drive to the wire defeating 18 of the nobilit three year olds in training before a crowd of 75,000 to 80,000 persons, the greatest throng that ever witnessed a horse race in America.

Has Amazing History

The racing achievements of Black Gold is one of the amazing stories of track history. The little gelding colt, the son of Black Toney, 1-stait was lightly regarded by the winter forecasters of the winner who have such names as Wise Counselor, St. James and Saracen on which to speculate. Black Gold at one time during the winter back was a 100 to 1 shot in today's race and until three weeks ago the price was 40 to 1 on him. When he finished across the wire a winner this afternoon his backers cashed $5.50 for every $2 wagered in the mutuels on his chances. The price on Challoway to place was $12:30 and on Beau Butler to show was $4.70.

Black Gold first came into racing prominence last year when as a two year old he won several impressive victories. His worthiness as a derby contender was further strengthened by his victory in the Louisiana derby at New Orleans last winter when he jumped home an easy winner by six lengths. His friends stamped to his chances last Tuesday when he won a derby trial here at one mile in 1:37 4/5 on a track that was slightly sluggish.

YANKS BEAT UHLE JINX

Defeat Cleveland Pitcher and Mates in 8 to 0 Game

Chicago, May 19.—The New York Yankees scored an impressive 8 to 0 victory over Cleveland Sunday, and ended the "uhle jinx," beating pitcher Uhl who won six out of seven games he pitched against the Yanks last season. Bob Shawkey pitched a strong game for the Yankees.

The Browns copped a tilt with Washington, 6 to 3 making four runs in the ninth. Boston was defeated by Detroit, 5 to 4.

In the Nationals, Cincinnati beat Brooklyn, 5 to 4, in a hotly contested game. Philadelphia beat Chicago, 8 to 5, while St. Louis nosed out Boston, 5 to 4.

St. Paul, in the Americans, drew up alongside Indianapolis by defeating Minneapolis.

Billy Evans Says

There seem to be no limit to the disputes that can arise on the ball field.

No sport produces anywhere near the number of unusual situations that happen in the national pastime.

Not a sea on passes in the major leagues but what one or more freak happenings arise to test the sound judgment of some rule that has been in the book for years.

No matter where the game is played, situations come up that test the mettle of the umpire and the temper of the crowd.

Recently I received the following communication with Harry Dockery, Halibon, Panama Canal Zone.

A person of his letter will immediately convince you that his position in the game in question was far from an enviable one.

Strangely enough, the play that caused the argument in the Canal Zone game once came up in a world series. It was in 1911, when the Athletics played the Giants. Bill Klem was the umpire.

"During the recent visit of the Pacific fleet to the Canal Zone in April, a series of three games were arranged to decide the championship of the United States navy," writes Dockery.

"The Battle Fleet picked a team to represent the visitors, while Coco Solo, which is a submarine base here, was chosen to defend the division. I have been an umpire in the local baseball league for 10 years and was selected to work the series."

"The Battle Fleet won the first game, 3 to 2. Coco Solo taking the second, 6 to 3. We arrived at the third game without any difficulty other than the usual kicks that happen in any ball game."

"The gods on both sides had let everything down to their shoe-laces, and nerves had about reached the breaking point when the third game started."

"At the end of the ninth inning the score stood a tie at 1 to 1, and tension ran high."

"In the last of the eleventh, with a runner on second and none out for the Battle Fleet, a punch hitter came through with a single to center."

"The runner from second preferred to try to score standing up. The ball arrived at the plate at almost the same time as the runner, but it tripped to one side."

"The catcher swung around to touch the runner, who pulled away just enough to miss the touch. In so doing, the runner missed home plate."

"I made no decision on the play, except to shake my head and say, 'No!'"

"The catcher turned to me and said 'I tagged him!' I waited momentarily to see if anyone had noticed the missing of the plate. No further play was made. I walked to my dressing room. Did I handle the play correctly?"

"You certainly did. It was a ticklish situation, requiring much courage. The missing of the plate with the winning run going over is a tough spot for the umpire."

"Just how long he should tarry around the plate is a question. The umpire must not make the play, and by waiting around too long place himself in the position of tipping off the mistake."

"Larry Doyle once won a world series game by a great slide for the Giants from the Athletics, and Umpire Bill Klem, in the most trying spot did just as you did. Had an appeal been made and the plate touched, he would have called the runner out."

REPORT LOSSES

Insurance adjusters here report the loss of three farm homes in the slope district during the last week by fire.

The heaviest loss was sustained at the Wm. Mohrer farm near Most when a large barn, nine sets of harness and 15 head of horses were destroyed. The horses were not insured and there was but $300 insurance on the barn.

George Zeller, farming 15 miles northeast of Elgin, lost his barn, one cow and one horse in a fire. Zeller, returning from an errand to adjoining farms, found the barn in flames. He entered, untied the livestock and rushed them out.

ENTERS RACE

Michael Tachida, a resident of Morton county since 1887, and one of the most widely known men in the county, has announced himself as a candidate for the republican nomination to the state legislature and friends are busy circulating petitions throughout the county.

Mr. Tachida who for many years has been engaged in the real estate business at Glen Ulin announces himself on a platform of rigid economy in state operation and tax reduction along all lines consistent with good government. His general business experience has been a varied one and such as to make him thoroughly familiar with the needs of the taxpayers in Morton county. He has for years been a leader in every booster or development project in the west end of the county and is expected to poll a large vote.

COPPER WIRE IS LONGER IN SUMMER TIME

A mile of outside copper telephone wire in North Dakota is about 3-4 feet longer in summer than it is in winter, while the difference in length of iron wire is about 1-3 feet per mile, according to telephone engineers.

When telephone linemen string wire in summer, they allow the wire to sag more between poles than they do in winter. This is done in order to prevent the wire from stretching too tight in winter and breaking. In the past a large number of wire breaks in winter were caused by the wire getting too tight, but this is being gradually overcome by allowing a little more sag. By far most of the wire breaks in winter are caused from sleet storms. A half-inch of sleet on a mile of telephone wire weighs about 1 1/2 tons.

Only 47 per cent of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company's wire in North Dakota is exposed to sleet storm damage and to breakage because of getting too tight in cold weather. Twenty-seven per cent of the wire is in outside cable, and 26 per cent is in underground cable.

Underground cable is expensive to lay, and is used only in the cities where a large number of wires must be brought through crowded streets.

If the wires required in a big city were carried overhead, the streets would be choked with poles and wires.

MARKET NEWS

WHEAT FAIRLY
STRONG EARLYAbsence of Selling Pressure
Allows Values to Harden

Chicago, May 19.—Absence of any pronounced selling pressure allowed wheat values to harden in today's early dealings. The market, however, was kept within narrow limits on account of the uncertain outlook as to farm legislation. After opening unchanged to one-fourth cents higher today, July $1.06 1/2 to $1.06 3/4, and September $1.07 1/4 to $1.07 3/4, the market sagged a little and then steadied at a slight general advance.

Later the market eased a little because of favorable crop comment from the southwest. The close was steady, July $1.06 1/4 to 3/4 and September $1.07 1/4.

INDICTMENT
OF WHEELER
SUPPORTEDSenator Sterling Declares
That Federal Grand Jury
Was Justified

Washington, May 19.—The federal grand jury in Montana was justified in returning an indictment against Senator Wheeler of Montana, in the opinion of Senator Sterling of South Dakota, who submitted a minority report to the Senate today in his capacity as a member of the special committee which investigated the indictment. Senator Sterling limited his report to the justification, declaring the question of the guilt or innocence of Senator Wheeler is not proper subject of inquiry by the committee but solely a matter of determination by the courts.

Prevent Spread

St. Paul, May 19.—Two men were burned, one probably fatally, a third man was missing and nine other persons were endangered here early today by an explosion of an oil tank car in the yards of the Craig Oil Refining Company on the west side.

A spark believed to have been generated when Peter Fishbach, an employee of the oil company, dropped the lid of the car in place, is held responsible for the explosion and fire that followed. Fishbach, who was enveloped by flames, is believed to have been fatally burned.

Scattered by the force of the blast, the burning oil started other fires near several storage tanks and every available piece of fire-fighting apparatus was called in an attempt to prevent other explosions and spread of the flames to nearby warehouses containing 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline and oil.

Nine employees of the Craig company, who were in the office when the explosion occurred, barely escaped with their lives, due to the rapidity with which the flames spread. Joseph Howard, a bookkeeper, has not been seen since the explosion and a search was being made for him.

LOYALTY URGED ON SENIORS OF HIGH SCHOOL

(Continued from page 1) miration to this unspotted and undefiled banner of a great nation. Today America has become for the whole world not only the land of freedom, of liberty, but it has become the land, the personification of Charity. Look back these last few years, when ships loaded with goods set sail for some European port to bring relief to thousands and thousands of poor people and poor children. America's name through its charity has been made immortal;

America's glory shall live as long as the country itself shall last.

"And do you know, do you realize, that where the whole world is blessing in America, there are today enemies at work, right here in our country, enemies, who do not shun the dark of the night, to complete their destruction? Do you know that the greatest pleasure for them would be to tear down the Stars and the Stripes, and to plant the red flag in its place? Do you know and realize, that today there are men and women, individuals and groups, who claim to be Americans, but who are downing everything sacred in this Nation? Do you know that they are digging today at the very root of our liberty, of our happiness?"

"Individuals and groups, who take the law in their own hand, and interpret it according to their own wishes? Can you believe that in the 20th century mob violence is possible?"

"Americanization. Yes, it is a beautiful word, and you graduates, who have studied the elementary principles of our government, you have the duty to help and to stand for right as guaranteed in the best constitution ever written."

"O boys and girls does it not make the blood boil in your veins, that such things are even possible in this country?"

"Americans always played an open game. Americans do not need the dark of the night to accomplish their work; Americans do not need anything to hide their face when working for the public welfare of a Union."

"Once more guard and protect your constitution, be loyal to your country and to every one of your fellow citizens."

"It is only proper that I mention here another duty; a duty which is the easiest of all, remember your school and your teachers. These men and ladies deserve at least your gratitude. Always be grateful for what you received during the years of your high school studies. And now take these few points which I tried to imprint on your mind all together, occasionally think about them. It will help you when you stand in the storm of life. Be men and women, who can shoulder the responsibility placed upon them. May it be said of you that you become honest loyal and faithful citizens, of whom your city, your parents and your teachers can be proud."

URGES MERCHANTS
Attend Meeting

An attractive invitation to all merchants in the state to attend the 26th annual convention of the North Dakota Retail Merchants Association in Bismarck, May 27, 28 and 29, has been issued by W. A. Donnelly of Fargo, secretary. Mr. Donnelly says an especially fine program has been arranged for the meeting.

"One more thought and I finish. Do not deceive yourself by thinking that you are educated now so that you would not need anything any more. Your education has only started. Keep on and develop the faculties of which I spoke in the beginning. Develop your character, and acquire more and more the bright, the honest side in life."
